What is the target audience for this book (age group, interests, demographics, etc.)? *

young to mature adult science fiction, elements of fantasy, martial arts, some romance involving humans and aliens.

Do you have any specific ideas or concepts in mind for the book cover? If yes, please describe them in detail. *

I envision the cover consisting of a montage of several main characters, the spaceship, and a comet in the background, with the Earth and Mars juxtaposed (they start in a double planet system. The comet's core becomes the Earth's moon after some cosmic gymnastics. Astral Projection's elements evolve into the ability to transport and even change physical form to go to remote locations.

Are there any specific elements, symbols, or imagery that you would like to see on the cover? If yes, please provide details. *

See the response above. I will provide a picture of myself for the back cover. The sentient spaceship looks like an elongated egg. One alien looks like a "gray" with long fingers. The other aliens lived on Mars 180 million years ago and are reptilian and very intelligent - clan based society.

What mood or atmosphere would you like the cover to convey? *

Atmosphere of hope and fantasy. I try to be supportive of characters of very different backgrounds getting along, and even developing close relationships, pushing prejudices aside.

Are there any specific colors you prefer or want to avoid for the cover design? *

I am open regarding colors - do not want a dark theme.

Do you have any font preferences for the title and author name? If yes, please specify the style or provide examples if possible. *

I have no preferences concerning font styles on the cover. You may use Gary W. Kimball for the author name - including my middle initial.

Are there any existing book covers that you find visually appealing or inspiring? If yes, please provide the book titles or images for reference. *

The Barnes & Noble cover of "Friday" by Robert A Heinlein

Is there any additional information or specific requirements you would like to mention? *

I have an artist working on artwork for the book's front cover. I will send a sketch and colored artwork as soon as I can.
